Industry: Technology
Use Case: Employee Training & Customer Training

booj trains internal and external learners using SAP Litmos booj is a real estate technology company that specializes in web design and complex development. Founded in 2005, their mission is to empower clients with the technology needed to stay competitive. They offer a complete end-to-end enterprise solution that has been developed in-house, from the ground up, with the services to help their clients get the most out of their partnership.

A lot of the challenges they had before SAP Litmos resolved around time. Previously they would spend anywhere from two to four weeks, all day, with new employees. Now that they use SAP Litmos to deploy that training, the time to onboard new employees has been cut down by 75%. Tracking and management had always been a very manual process, and now all they have to do is create reports which are automatically delivered to managers every week.

Now booj successfully uses SAP Litmos to train their internal staff and external clients. Assigning courses online has seamlessly simplified the process and allowed them to stay consistent and save time.

"Training is always going to evolve and constantly change. We are a technology company and are always going to push the boundaries. We use SAP Litmos and we wouldn't use a product that we don't stand by."
