Learning is at the heart of any top-performing organization. In a world where change is the only constant, businesses must now be able to reskill, upskill, onboard, maintain compliance, and protect the physical and mental health of workers with greater agility than ever. As companies seek the "adaptive advantage," learning is critical to moving the organization forward with a centralized strategy but also with agile, targeted paths for different learner groups both inside and outside the company.

Why Litmos Solutions?

Litmos solutions enable companies to leverage learning as a key connection between people and performance – both individual and organizational. Trusted by thousands of global brands, Litmos Training delivers powerful but easy-to-use LMS features for admins and learners alike. Litmos Training Content is an off-the-shelf content library full of professionally-created, video-based courses on topics from compliance to sales and service skills to health and well-being – and everything in between.
